

A MISERABLE MISER.

His Fiance Deserts Him on the Day They Were to Have Wedded.

HE THEN WENT TO THE BACKWOODS

A Large Town Grew Up Around His One-Roomed Little Hotel.

HE EXPIRED WORTH FIFTY THOUSAND

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

LIMA, O., June 28.—There died this city today an eccentric miser named Fred Denlinger. He was born in Germany, and came here when quite young in order to escape going into the army. He landed in New York City without a penny, and at once went to work at his trade, that of a shoemaker. He worked there several years, and during that time met and became engaged to be married. The day for the wedding was set, and young Denlinger was on his way to the home of his intended when he was met by a messenger who stated that his fiancee had been married to another. The advent lover was prostrated for several months by the blow and when he recovered he came here, this place consisting at that time of only a few houses. He bought a tract of land, which was then very cheap, erected a one-roomed hut and slept, ate and lived there until about one year ago, scarcely ever being seen outside of the hotel. The hotel gradually grew into a miserable hut of Denlinger was surrounded with elegant residences, but he refused all attempts to buy him out until two years ago, when he moved his hut to the corner of a town, where he continued his queer mode of life until his death today. He died worth over $50,000, and there is no known heir in this country to inherit his estate. An effort will be made to ascertain his foreign relatives.

UNDER A REAPER.

A Serious Accident in Which a Skull is Badly Fractured.

ZANESVILLE, O., June 28.—Levi Bunting, a prominent Washington township farmer about four miles from this city, met with a serious accident yesterday. He was working in the field harvesting, and had just started the reaper when he discovered that it was too high. He stepped the horses and crawled in under it, when the horses became frightened and moved backward. Mr. Bunting was placed in such a position that he could not get out from under the machine, and in his endeavor to do so fell under the wheels, and before any one could reach him any assistance he had been run over by the heavy machine had run over his head. His skull was fractured, and the horses were bruised and also received slight bruises on their bodies. He was carried into the house and his condition is such that he is expected to die. He was a well-known and prosperous farmer and was married a little over a year ago.

AGAIN IN JEOPARDY.

The Oman Robbery Case Will Be Tried Over in the Courts.

FINDLAY, O., June 28.—The second trial of Charles Morgan will begin in the Common Pleas in this county to-morrow morning. Morgan was once convicted and sent to the penitentiary, where he served one year for the Oman robbery case, but on account of a technicality he was granted a new hearing by the Supreme Court. It is the opinion of lawyers here that Morgan will be acquitted on this trial, and if so, the celebrated Oman case will be more of a mystery than ever. Great interest exists over the fact that a second trial has been granted, and that the second trial will be held in the county court. It is expected that the jury will be composed of men who are not familiar with the case, and that the case will be tried in a more impartial manner than in the first trial.

TAKING A VACATION.

All the Glass Factories at Findlay Closed for the Summer.

FINDLAY, June 28.—All the first and window glass factories in this city, with one exception, are in number, put out their fires at 12 o'clock Saturday night and shut down for the summer vacation, which will last until September 1. It is thought here that the vacation will be even longer than usual, as nothing whatever has been done in regard to the glass schedule. This is a matter that is likely to create considerable trouble, and the firms may not be started in the fall. The industry, and stocks have been well worked off at excellent figures. The closing of the factories of this city gives over 1,000 employees a long and desired vacation.

SINGULARLY SCORCHED.

A Peculiar Accident Which Happened to a Glass Worker.

BELLEVILLE, O., June 28.—Saturday morning James W. Fry, an expert employee of the Union Window Glass Company, met with a peculiar and rare accident in that trade. He was handling a hot roll from the swing hole, and as he was passing it, it slipped and struck him on the head. The blow was so severe that it broke, coming down on his head, and covering him with molten glass. He was terribly burned about the face, head and shoulders, and was taken to his home. The work he was doing was about his last duty before the factory shut down for the summer season. He will be laid up for some time.

THE FLOOD VICTIMS.

Possibility That a Renewed Search Will Be Made for Bodies.

JOHNSTOWN, June 28.—The finding of another skeleton of an unknown flood victim has agitated the question of continuing the search for the other bodies, many of which have not yet been discovered. The committee having the charge of the investigation, consisting of Scott Dierdt, Herman Baumer and W. J. Rose. There is yet some money on hand for the purpose of making search, and the matter will be informally discussed yesterday. A new search will probably be raised, as the money on hand is not sufficient to make any extended investigation.

REFUSED TO SIGN.

Iron Manufacturers Will Not Agree to the New Iron Clause.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 28.—The new scale adopted by the Associated Association was presented to all the iron manufacturers through the Mahoning Valley Saturday, and each declined to sign it, and they give no assurance that they will. The contention is in regard to the nine-hour clause and the effort to restrict production of the mills. The manufacturers have definitely decided to suspend operations Tuesday night, when the old scale expires, and make extensive repairs. Unless the iron market improves the scale will not be signed and operations resumed for several weeks.

BEYOND HIS DEPTH.

The Son of a Prominent Coal Operator Drowned at McKeesport.

McKEESPORT, June 28.—John F. Noel, son of James F. Noel, of Camden, one of the prominent coal operators along the Monongahela river, was drowned last evening about 5 o'clock while bathing. The boy was 13 years of age, and drowned before the eyes of his companions. He could not swim and it is not known whether he got beyond his depth and drowned, or was taken with cramps. The body was recovered soon after he was drowned.

NICKEL-PLATED ARMOR.

A Cargo of the Metal Arrives and Work Will Shortly Commence.

BRADDOCK, June 28.—A large cargo of nickel has just arrived at the Homestead mills of Carnegie, Shipp & Co. This is an indication that the nickel-plated armor for the Government has stood a satisfactory test, and work will be pushed on that product.

NEW MOLDERS' FLASK.

A Patent That is an Improvement Over the Old. The Elizabeth Planing Mill Company has the contract for building the cabin, and she will be fitted out with the machinery from another boat. The name of the boat will be the Ocean Wave, and she will be 30 feet long, William Snow, of West Elizabeth, is one of the owners.

METHODIST MEETINGS.

Religious Exercises in Progress and Largely Attended. The campmeeting, under the control of the Free Methodists, is in progress at the home of Rev. Walter A. Sellow, Presiding Elder of the District, has charge of the meetings, which are held in the evening. There are no fees charged and persons camping there are required to pay nothing, though they are not allowed to indulge in any games of pleasure of any sort.

FITZGERALD'S FEARS.

He Will Commit Suicide if He is Convicted of Murder. YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 28.—Charles Fields, of Buffalo, as he registers, who claims to be a friend of Fitzgerald, the murderer of Officer Freed, said today in explanation of his visit to his home in Buffalo, and that he was born in Cincinnati. At one time Fitzgerald befriended me, and I came to see what I could do for him. Fields asserted that he was traveling for a Buffalo firm, but refused to give the name or address. Officers who have interviewed Fields take little stock in his statement, and believe that he is here for the purpose of inducing Fitzgerald to confess to the murder of Officer Freed. Fitzgerald said today that if convicted he would commit suicide, and he would not have his wife known as the wife of a convict.

HAVE NOT YET AGREED.

The Jurymen in the Market Murder Case Are Still Out. YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 28.—The jury in the case of Ira Mariatt, charged with the murder of Barak Ashton, which was sent out at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, is still in the jury room at the court house, waiting for a verdict. Every precaution has been taken by the court to keep them closely guarded and prevent their deliberations reaching the public. If the jurymen have not agreed on the verdict by 10 o'clock Sunday morning they will be discharged, which request will probably be refused by Judge Johnston, and they will be sent back to the jury room for further deliberation.

OUT OF THE FRYING PAN.

Convict Released Only to Be Rearrested on Another Charge. WREXINGTON, June 28.—Last evening A. L. Ditty, a convict whose extended term in the penitentiary was lessened two years for good behavior, was released from the Wrexford penitentiary. He walked out of the prison walls that had sheltered him for years and into the arms of Deputy United States Marshal Robinson, who has taken him to Columbus, O. Ditty is wanted there for perjury in a United States case, and he is expected to be arrested there. Ditty is a native of Washington county, O.

ANOTHER GLASS FACTORY SHUT DOWN.

BRADDOCK, June 28.—The Bryce Higbee & Co. glass factory closed down yesterday to give its employees the customary six weeks' summer vacation.

PENNSYLVANIA PICKINGS.

A wild and storm company has been formed at Marble, Clarion county. Five robberies have been reported at Washington during as many days. JOHN NICOLS was killed by a Pittsburgh and Lake Erie train at Wrentham Friday night. JUDGE THOMPSON, Mayor of Clarion, is lying dangerously ill, and his recovery is doubtful. BEULGERS entered the residence of City Treasurer Blevins at New Castle yesterday morning, securing considerable plunder. EUSTACE HENNINGHAUS, in stepping from one vessel to another, Friday, fell overboard and was drowned. CARL HEISELMAYER, of Trenton, Pa., is charged with shooting his wife for testifying that he was unfaithful. He escaped. WILLIAM MITCHELL, of Canton, is on his way to buy a coffin for his dead child, who was run over and killed at Greensburg on Friday.

REMAINS OF VICTIMS.

The remains of James Dodson, the last of the victims of the cyclone at Mt. Carmel, were found under the debris yesterday morning. The eleventh annual reunion of the graduates of the different Soldiers' Orphan schools will take place at Reading August 18, 19 and 20. A census seed which had been imbedded in Isaiah Billow's mouth for 25 years came out at Newport on Friday, from a swelling under his tongue. E. M.D. SHOOKER, of Wilkesbarre, has disappeared, and his wife claims that his friends spirited him away and are keeping him at Harvey Lake. LOUISA HALLINGER, of Lancaster, woke up on a train while her funeral sermon was being preached Friday. She was supposed to be dead, but she is now at home.
